Police arrest man in sex case

Known sex offender charged with rape

By Scott Cousins
Staff writer

A man accused of sexually molesting a four-year-old in South Roxana has a long history of sexual offenses, including a 1996 conviction for the sexual assault of a Granite City area woman.

Mark A. Maguire, 39, of the 200 block of Illinois Avenue in South Roxana, was charged Monday with one count of predatory criminal sexual assault.

Bond was set at $300,000. As of Wednesday, Maguire was in custody at the Madison County Jail.

He is accused of forcing the girl to perform a sex act with him numerous times between May and July 20, according to the charges.

According to police, the girls' parents contacted authorities over the weekend, prompting an investigation, said South Roxana Police Chief Dennis Carpenter.

Maguire is a registered sex offender who has been out of prison on parole since Jan. 17. Maguire was on parole for the 1995 rape of a Granite City area prostitute.

In 1998 he had been sentenced to seven years in prison for aggravated criminal sexual abuse and kidnapping, but most of the sentence was applied to time served in the Madison County Jail.

Maguire has a history of sexual and other crimes dating to 1980, and other offenses before that.

That includes two convictions for rape, and he was also tied by DNA testing to a 1991 rape of two teenage girls and charged, but could not be prosecuted because the

Microburst blamed for damage

The fierce storm that ripped through town Monday morning damaged several businesses and downed power lines. According to a spokesman for the National Weather Service the damage was probably caused by a microburst that struck the area about 7:15 a.m. Most of the damage occurred along Illinois Route 203, between Mitchell Avenue and Wilson Avenue. At Nameoki Village Auto-Marine, the front windows

City Council approves $17.1M budget

Four new police cruisers included in the 1999-2000 expenditures

By Michael Heil
Staff writer

With a newly approved $17.1 million budget approved Tuesday night, Granite City's financial outlook is healthy, according to City Comptroller Kim P. Mactaggart.

"I'm happy with (the 1999-2000 budget)," Mactaggart said. "Our financial position is the best it's been. The mayor and department heads worked hard to keep requests at a reasonable, sensible level."

Expenditures of $97,108 will be used for the purchase of four new police cars and another $209,847 will be used to purchase a tub grinder for the Street Department. The grinder will allow department workers and residents to trash branches, tree limbs and leaves at the dump site on 25th street.

In addition, $1.3 million will be spent for the construction of the new Walgreens drug store. Those expenditures seem somewhat minuscule, Mactaggart said, compared to $12.1 million used for city employees' benefits and salaries. Mactaggart said the city is a "service provider" and therefore the expenditures will always be in that range. The budget, Mactaggart added, consists of overtime pay expenditures for the police, fire and street departments. Those departments, Mactaggart said, will receive about $86,000 in overtime pay. As far as an emergency situation, such as a possible Y2K crisis, Mactaggart said there are no funds available, but they could be appropriated. "I do not have a contingency plan," he said. "If an emergency occurs the city can ask for supplemental appropriations."

Overall, Mactaggart said, the budget is similar to past budgets, including the current fiscal year. Increase revenue is expected from the city's new municipal court, as well as from additional sales and income taxes.

Crafts cherished and adored by families throughout their lives

By Michael Heil
Staff writer

Peggy Nickles of Granite City has a special gift, one where she can take trinkets and turn them into eye-catching crafts to be cherished and adored by family members throughout their life.

"Seeing people's faces light up after their tucked-away treasures turn into lasting memories displayed proudly in their homes warms my heart," Nickles said.

Nickles began dallying in the art of keepsakes about 10 years ago. She has been a collector of vintage tea pots, linens and handkerchiefs for 25 years.

Using her creativity and craftiness, she has combined her collection with her gift to create the ingenious crafts through the use of baby booties, bonnets, medals, pipes, pictures, toys and heirlooms. As an example, Nickles said, a simple picture frame can become a handsome, decorative craft made from a selected handkerchief and porcelain cherub.

The finished piece, Nickles said, entails an angel mounted

Former attorney files suit

Village lawyer sues for unpaid wages

By Curtiss Hartley
Staff writer

The former village attorney for Pontoon Beach has filed suit against the municipality for unpaid legal fees.

Brian Polinske, who served as the legal representative for the village of Pontoon Beach from November 1997 to April 1999, claims that the new administration has refused to pay for 55 1/2 hours of work he did on a civil case before being fired by the village board.

Polinske said he has been trying to collect the fees since April.

"They're denying it," he said. "They're claiming some work I did on a civil case was not authorized, although it was authorized by the old board in an executive session."

He said the legal fees he

Some politicians are motivated by personal reasons, not just money

It's way easy to be cynical about politicians. They seem to obfuscate on just about everything, sop up gobs of special interest money, and hog credit for things that had little, if anything, to do with them. Like I need to tell you any of this.

There's another side to most of them that the general public rarely sees, however, because voters have so little direct contact with the people they elect.

Now, I'm not here to ask you to forgive them for their sins. It's a very American thing only to rarely pat our elected leaders on the back — that sappy stuff only encourages them and gives them the big head. Public kicks in the rear are reminders that they're supposed to be reporting to us, even if it doesn't always work.

But I've found over the years that one of the most interesting things about covering the Illinois Statehouse is watching legislators who have a personal stake in an issue.

Rich Miller

I'm not talking about a financial stake. I mean an issue that has affected their lives.

Rep. Sara Feigenholtz (D-Chicago) has known all of her life that she was adopted. She never knew her biological parents, but when she reached her late 20s, she considered starting a family and wanted to know if she had any genetic problems that could be passed on to her children.

Finding a biological parent is not an easy thing in Illinois. State laws frustrated her at every turn. Feigenholtz's journey showed her that there were other people like herself who needed help. She discovered that a black market had developed in adoption records, making criminals out of people who just wanted to know where they're from or what happened to their children. Those realizations led her into politics, and for the past several years Feigenholtz has been trying to make it easier for biological parents and their children to locate each other.

Feigenholtz immediately ran into a wall of ignorance and fear. Why would you ever want to find your biological parents? one legislator asked her, as if the whole idea was just too silly for words.

Several members of the General Assembly have adopted children, and they worried about biological parents barging into their kids' lives, demanding rights they had relinquished when they signed the adoption papers.

Feigenholtz finally managed to pass a bill this spring that opened the process up a bit, although she admits it was mostly symbolic.

She's decided to take a break from the issue for a while, though, fully realizing that you can only push things so much in the legislature before everyone starts rolling their eyes whenever you open your mouth.

But she also said that she feels she has achieved something even more important than passing her bill. She said she believes she has educated the legislature about the entire issue. The next legislator who introduces an adoption rights bill will have a much easier time of it.

Feigenholtz will probably get a few campaign contributions because of her efforts. But that's not why she took up this issue. She was doing what a citizen legislator is supposed to do — pass legislation to fix problems they have encountered in their lives outside of Springfield.

You'd be surprised at how much this goes on at the Statehouse. But maybe we should just keep it to ourselves. After all, we wouldn't want it to go to their heads.

What You Need to Know About Laser and Surgical Vision Correction

LASIK and Intacs™ can decrease or eliminate your dependence on glasses and contact lenses.

By Edward A. Doisy, III, MD, FACS
Illinois Eye Specialists

Every day our practice receives multiple calls about both the LASIK and Intacs™ procedure. These recent advances in refractive surgery have made vision correction an option for more people than ever before.

LASIK is a vision correction procedure for patients who are nearsighted, astigmatic and farsighted. Before delivering the laser treatment, the physician creates a small protective flap of cornea that covers the operated area following the procedure. After creating the flap an ultraviolet beam of cool light gently sculpts the cornea. The actual procedure takes a few minutes. It is not uncommon for our patients to visit us one day following surgery with an excellent visual result.

The Intacs™ procedure is intended for patients who have mild nearsightedness. During this procedure the physician implants tiny, crescent shaped, pieces of polymer at two-thirds the depth of the cornea. This is the first refractive procedure that is potentially removable. During the FDA clinical trials, 74% of the Intacs™ patients achieved 20/20 vision, and more than 50% of these patients were seeing better than 20/20.

The only way to determine if you are a candidate for one of the refractive procedures is to have a complete refractive evaluation. For a limited time we will be offering LASIK and Intacs™ evaluations at no charge. If you would like to schedule an evaluation, or would like to attend an informational seminar, please call our office at (618) 288-7266.

"The old board said, 'Fine, go ahead and do it,' 'Fine, go ahead and do it,' Polinske said.

"The new board decided it wasn't proper."

Court records show that Polinske claims he turned in a final bill totaling $8,317.50 in April of this year. Because the village board has refused to pay the bill, Polinske has filed the civil case in Madison County Circuit Court to try to recover those fees.

An additional transcript fee of $169.20 was added to the cost of filing the case, making a total of $8,486.70 Polinske is seeking in the law suit.

Eric Evans, the new village attorney for Pontoon Beach, said Polinske's last bill contained hours spanning seven months, and was three times higher than normal.

"That's almost double what his agreed-to rate was," Evans said. "The village never paid him that much."

statute of limitations had expired.

In 1980 Maguire was convicted in a Madison County rape case, and was sentenced to 15 years.

He was on parole at the time of the 1991 rapes.

In the 1991 case, Maguire was accused of ramming the victims' car, forcing it off the road and then raping the girls.

He was convicted of residential burglary in 1989, after being found inside an unoccupied Bethalto home.

He was convicted for armed robbery and burglary; and was arrested in an Alton prostitution sting in 1993 after allegedly propositioning an undercover policewoman. The disposition of the prostitution case was not available.

In the 1995 case, Maguire pulled a gun on the victim after she got into his van in downtown Granite City.

According to police, the victim and another woman were walking on Madison Avenue near 18th Street at about 12:40 a.m. when Maguire pulled up and asked them if they wanted to "party."

They declined, but the victim asked for a ride.

He then took her to the 1300 block of Grand Avenue in Madison, raped her, then pushed the victim out of the vehicle and drove away.

Arthritis Pain

Mystery Solved

Horse Liniment is the secret!

OCALA, FL. — An ingredient used to treat inflammation in thoroughbred racehorses' legs is now recognized as safe and effective for human use. The ingredient has been formulated into a product called ARTH-Rx and comes in a strength designed for humans. Researchers are excited and say the formula can relieve arthritis pain for millions.

Developed by the Phillips Drug Corporation, ARTH-Rx is a breakthrough in the treatment of painful disorders, ranging from minor aches and pains to more serious conditions such as arthritis, bursitis, rheumatism, tendonitis, backache and more.

Scientists suggest that ARTH-Rx works by increasing the pain messenger substance that sends pain signals to the brain. Although the mechanism is not totally clear, pain is relieved in the affected area because the pain signal actually disappears.

ARTH-Rx is the only product on the market with Neurocin as an ingredient and is available in a convenient, pleasant scented roll-on applicator without a prescription. According to a spokesperson for the company, ARTH-Rx is available in pharmacies, nutrition stores, and even some feed stores. ARTH-Rx can also be ordered by calling 1-800-729-8448.

were smashed, part of the roof buckled, a boat was destroyed and others were damaged, and a small brick building used for boat repairs was virtually blown away.

"It was like a plane zoomed overhead and dropped tree limbs."

Glenn Drexel
Owner, TNT Fence Co.

"It's all one, big mess," said Terry McCormick, owner of Nameoki Village Auto-Marine. "It hit out of nowhere. There's probably $500,000 worth of damage here."

Monty Cordray and another employee were inside the building ready to open when they heard rain pelting against the windows. When they looked out, Cordray said, they saw marquee signs flying and motor displays being tossed as if they were made of plastic.

"We ran into the coffee room and hit the floor," Cordray said. "Guess we were there for about three minutes."

After the storm, which witnesses said lasted about five minutes, the business looked somewhat like a war zone. Brick remnants of the boat repair building were strewn about, as well as parts of the damaged boats. Close by, workmen were attempting to put up a power line pole that was uprooted.

Next to the marine, on Bremen Avenue, T-N-T-Fence Co. was damaged as well, but to a lesser degree. The roof was partly ripped away and water inundated a small part of the building.

Glenn Drexel, owner of the business, said he heard a brief but loud noise.

"It was like a plane zoomed overhead and dropped tree limbs," he said.

John Bernaix, who resides on the corner of Route 203 and Courtney Avenue, had just returned home after working the night shift at Granite City Steel when he heard a crash. He ran out the front door, he said, and saw a tree on top his roof.

His house, he said, also received structural damage to the front porch and front windows. "We're lucky no one was hurt," he said. "I can replace a roof, but not my family."

According to Molly Hall, spokesperson for Illinois Power, about 600 residents in the area of Ferguson Avenue were temporarily without power during part of the morning and afternoon. Power was restored to about half of those customers by 10 a.m., while all but six of the remaining residents had their power restored by mid afternoon. The outages were caused by four telephone poles knocked out of service and home service wires that were snapped, she said.

The weather will continue to be a burden in the area as temperatures remain in the upper-90s, with heat indexes over 100 degrees.

Heat shelters have been set up at the following locations: Granite City/Mitchell/Pontoon Beach Salvation Army, 3007 E. 23rd St., and Chouteau Township Hall, 906 Thorngate Drive.

Madison Recreation Center, Seventh and Lee and at West Madison Recreation Center, 901 W. Washington.

Granite City High student earns All-American honors after placing sixth in his weight class

By Brian Bretsch
Staff writer

George Kirgan explored some new territory last week in Fargo, N.D.

Kirgan became the first member of the Collinsville Raiders wrestling club to earn All-American honors at the cadet and junior national wrestling championships.

Kirgan, who will be a senior at Granite City High School in the fall, was one of four Illinois wrestlers to earn all-American honors at the tournament.

In addition to being the first Raiders wrestler to earn such an honor, he became the first Granite City High wrestler since 1979 to earn All-American honors. The last was Sam Perkins, who won the 143-pound Greco Roman title.

Kirgan finished sixth in the 165-pound class. A 6-5 overtime loss to Bob Edmonds of Nebraska kept Kirgan from reaching the finals. Kirgan was named one of the tri-captains for the Illinois team along with brothers Israel and Nathan Martinez of Aurora West.

Collinsville's Marc Justice was voted the hardest worker at the training camp. Kirgan and Justice led the team and carried the banner at the opening ceremonies.

"I feel the hardest worker is a greater honor than team captain and I'm pleased Marc's team members recognized what I knew all year," Raiders coach Al Kirgan said.

Justice went 4-1 in the tournament and fell two rounds short of All-American status.

Wes Smith, who will be a senior at Collinsville and was a Prairie State Games champion, went 0-2 in the 165-pound class. Sophomore Nick McHenry was 0-2 in the 182-pound class.

"I was pleased and proud of all of our Collinsville Raiders who participated," Kirgan said. "When you consider only six Metro East wrestlers participated in this event and four of the six were from the Collinsville Raiders Wrestling club, that's amazing. It's amazing that more of our area wrestlers don't at least try to gain this experience."

"Maybe that's why the metro area had only two state place winners (at the IHSAA tournament). That's why I'm so proud of these guys who are doing everything they can to become champions. I can't wait for the high school season to begin so Kirgan, Smith, McHenry and the other area wrestlers who participated can realize just how much they have improved."

South topples North all-stars

Four-run sixth inning lifts South to victory

By Louie Korac
Staff writer

The South Division all-stars put together a four-run outburst in the sixth inning which proved to make the difference in its 8-4 victory Monday in the District 22 All-Star Game at Hopkins Field in Alton.

The South had claimed a 4-0 lead after the top of the third against North starting pitcher Wayne Hubert (Troy Post 703).

The North answered with three runs in the bottom of the third inning and one more in the fourth to tie the score at 4-4.

The South's offensive outburst in the sixth inning made a loser of North pitcher Dusty Barr (Highland).

The North also used Devin Mayes of Tri City for mound duty.

Jeremy Schmersahl of Waterloo was the winning pitcher for the South. The South's other pitchers were George Jentsch of O'Fallon, Travis Krick of Smithton and Zach Borowiak of Nashville.

No home runs were hit in the game. Edwardsville manager Ken Schaaque, who guided Post 199 to the American Legion national championship last summer and led the team to the District 22 championship this season, coached the North team, which included nine of his players.

But his philosophy for the all-star game was more about having fun and getting all the players some time than winning.

"We try to divide the teams evenly, position by position, and let the kids play an equal amount," Schaaque said. "We actually drew straws, picked numbers and if you drew one, you got to decide if you play the first four or the last five. That was it."

"There's no pressure in these kinds of games," Schaaque added. "The main thing is to let the kids play."

Edwardsville's representatives in the game were Chris McCoy, Ryan Peterson, Adam Bernaix, Nick Seibert, Tim Hansel, Todd Spitz, Matt Bogle, Andrew Honegger (who was not present) and Chris Johnson.

Peterson led the Post 199 contingent by going 1-for-1 with two runs batted in. He started in right field and made a diving catch of a fly ball in foul territory hit by the South's Neal O'Donnell (Belleville) in the fourth inning.

Skirball making impressive strides

Prairie State Games medal winner

sets lofty goals for his senior season

By Rick Broome
Staff writer

Rich Skirball has not been slowed by the summer heat. Skirball won the gold medal in the 400-meter run in the Prairie State Games.

In his third year competing in Illinois' statewide amateur sports festival, Skirball posted a time of 51.6 seconds.

"It was very hot and humid that day," Skirball said. "I had confidence that I could be one of the favorites to win going in. It's always an honor to take first place but especially against that top competition. I was fortunate to come out on top."

A senior at Granite City High School, Skirball has improved as his scholastic career has progressed.

"All the improvement came about just once I started working harder," Skirball said.

"My times started dropping. The coaching I got really helped, and once the times started dropping I built confidence and knew that I could do well."

"One thing you hope for in a high school career is that, as they move from year to year, they improve," Granite City High School track coach Gene Briggs said. "Rich has done that."

"Rich had a tremendous jump from his sophomore to junior years. He was always a good athlete, but he is now one of the top track athletes in the area. From what I have seen of his summer work, he is continuing the way he finished the high school season."

Skirball finished his season just short of making the IHSAA Class AA state track meet. He finished third in the 400-meter run in the sectional tournament and missed qualifying by less than a second. His 50.6-second run was a personal

Edwardsville American Legion tries to follow the path of 1998 success

Post 199 headed into play at division tournament with eye on defending state title

By Louie Korac
Staff writer

CARMI — Edwardsville Post 199 has been in this position before.

The Edwardsville American Legion team on Wednesday began its quest for a berth in the Illinois state tournament, where it hopes to defend one of the titles it one on its way to the American Legion national championship last summer.

Edwardsville (25-6) opened play Wednesday in the Fifth Division Tournament, where it faced District 24 champion Harrisburg Post 167.

Post 199 reached Fifth Division play by defeating Fairview Heights Post 978 11-9 on Saturday and 21-12 on Sunday in the District 22 championship best-of-three series.

Post 167 defeated Fairview 21-3 and 16-8 on Saturday to claim the District 24 title.

"We've played Harrisburg in the past and you find that they usually hit the ball pretty well," Edwardsville manager Ken Schaaque said. "They've usually got some pitchers that could make it pretty tough for us."

"It's gonna be tough. We'll be missing some players, so that means other kids are gonna have to step up."

Ken Schaaque
Edwardsville Legion manager

"Not to say that we're gonna go down there and go right through anybody and I hope the kids aren't thinking that. But I think it's a pretty similar situation that we were in last year where we played Mount Vernon in the first game, where you had two of the best teams in the tournament squaring off in the first game. We've just got to go down and play tough our first game."

Edwardsville was going to be without third baseman Matt Bogle for at least Wednesday due to some tests he had to take for college. Second baseman Andrew Honegger, who is on vacation, will miss the entire tournament.

"It's gonna be tough," Schaaque said. "We'll be missing some players, so that means other kids are gonna have to step up."

"Matt Bogle won't be there for the first game and Andrew won't be there for the tournament, so there's two bats, two guys that were hitting the ball pretty well this past week and they won't be there."

That means Tim Hansel will likely slide over and play second base, Matt Turner will move from center field to first base, Chris McCoy will switch from first to third, and Adam Bernaix and Beau Moody will step into the outfield.

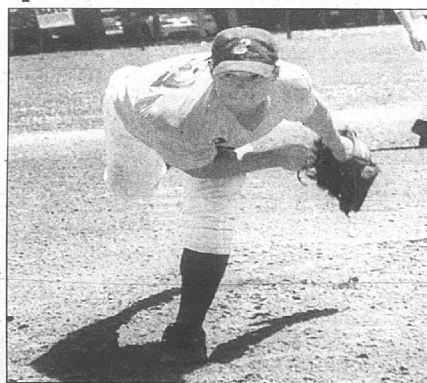

"Moody and Bernaix are gonna have to step up and play the way they're capable of playing," Schaaque said. "They just can't sit back and let somebody else lead the way."

Edwardsville has pitching depth in the form of Nick Seibert, Chris Johnson, Jake Schuette and Hansel but the staff was beat up by Fairview Heights for 21 runs and 29 hits in two games over the weekend.

Seibert (5-1) and Johnson (5-2) started the two games against Fairview Heights. Seibert was fairly effective, not allowing many hits but walking five in seven innings, while Johnson was hit up for 12 hits and nine runs in four innings on Sunday.

Schuette worked only one-third of an

Millstadt contributes to Steelers' losing streak

Poor fundamentals cost Granite City in twinbill

By Rick Broome
Staff Writer

Granite City got both ends of its twinbill vetoed Sunday by Millstadt
in Mon-clair League

Problems with fundamentals cost Granite City. The Steelers had their pitching and defense breached and lost both games.

In the first game, Millstadt plated one in the third, three in the fifth and four in the eighth. Granite countered with one in the fourth, two in the sixth, and one in the seventh.

It wasn't enough to get over the hump, as Millstadt won 8-

"We definitely hit a rough patch," Harshany said. "In the last stretch of the season, we had a lot of injuries; it around as we had hoped, we have done just the opposite. For the last part of the season, we had a lot of injuries, and we were over the hump, but it just hasn't happened yet."

"We definitely need to finish strong," he notes. "We would hate to lose eight or 10 to 12 games in a row to close out the season. We just have to take it game by game, and realize that is what we are going to do. Hopefully we can string together some wins and make it into the playoffs."

4. Pete Kleemann started and went the distance for Granite City. He walked four and struck out three. Kleemann surrendered 11 hits and eight runs, but only five of them were earned as Granite made five errors in the field.

Obviously, when you give teams extra outs in an inning, it affects the score." Granite City coach and first baseman Larry Harshbarger said. "When you have teams four, five or six outs in an inning, it makes a difference in the outcome of the balgame."

Johnny, P. J. Peruca and Brett Kisko each went 1 for 4 in the losing effort. Kleemann and Karen Deford went 1 for 2, and Jeff Ridenour was 2 for 3.

The losing ways continued in game two. Granite starter Mike Smith went 2 1/3 innings and gave up 11 runs, all of them earned, before Josh Starwalt came into the game in the sixth. The Steelers went on to lose 13-1 in five innings.

"Mike didn't do a bad job of pitching," Harshany said. "They just singled him to death. They didn't give him any extra-base hits. They were just able to put the ball in play and string a bunch of hits together. When you have a pitcher, there's much you can do as a pitcher, and there isn't much you can do in the field. They just had a great day at the plate."

With the two losses – the fifth and sixth in a row – Granite City's record fell to 8-14 overall. The Steelers knock inning on Saturday, walking three, but he worked the final five innings on Sunday, allowing only three runs on 10 hits to get the win and improve to 6-1.

"Pitching and defense, that's the main thing," Schaake said. "That's what kept us in there for six or seven innings against Mount Vernon last year and we finally got a couple of breaks in the seventh inning and scored a couple there, one or two more in the eighth and ninth, and won 4-0." Offensively, Edwardsville is coming off a weekend when it scored 32 runs on 32 hits in two games to sweep Fairview Heights. In going 4-1 in the District double-elimination tournament, Post 199 racked up 51 runs.

The other three tournament teams are District 26 champion Carle Place Post 347, who faced District 23 champion St. Peter Post 380 Wednesday afternoon. The winner of the Edwardsville-Harrisburg game was scheduled to play tournament host Carmi Post 224 on Wednesday night.

The winner of the Fifth Division Tournament advances to play in the American Legion State Tournament, set for Aug. 4-7 and hosted by Northbrook. The tournament will be played at Northwestern University in Evanston.

best and just missed the 49.9-second qualifying standard. "We were really proud of him," Briggs said. "He not only ran a personal best in the 400, but also in the 3:20 relay at sectionals. We took third and ran a 8:06.2, and you had to run 8:06 flat to get to state. Rich ran his best split in that and then came back to run a personal best in the 400 open."

Skirball will compete in the track events at the State Games of America, Aug. 6-8.

from this experience." The other two Metro East wrestlers competing at the tournament were Jacob Janek of Granite City and Ryan Jackson of Triad High. Janek was 2-2 in the tournament, while Jackson was 1-2. Also making the trip to Fargo was Collinsville North Junior High coach Mark Bullington, who was the senior pairing official for Team Illinois.

"Mark was a valuable asset to have," Kirgan said.

FEUD OF THE WEEK

Bill Elliott vs. Jerry Nadeau

Elliott was in third place in Sunday's Pennsylvania 500 when he got tangled up with Nadeau, putting him out of the race.

NASCAR This Week's Kevin Ellis gives his opinion:
 "Nadeau was at fault in this one and later apologized to Elliott. Nadeau was in a wreck involving Kenny Wallace a few laps later."

 NASCAR This Week

Matt Kenseth, currently engaged in weekly battles with Dale Earnhardt Jr. in NASCAR's Busch Grand National division, will continue that rivalry next year when he joins Earnhardt as a Winston Cup rookie.

Kenseth is a protégé of Mark Martin, who will own the Roush Racing-tooled Ford Kenseth will drive next year. Martin was instrumental in Kenseth signing a personal-services contract with the Roush organization in 1998. With Busch Grand National owner Robbie Reiser as his crew chief, Kenseth hopes to make the field at the Michigan Cup race on Aug. 22 and compete in four other races this fall.

HAVE YOU TALKED WITH DALE EARNHARDT JR. ABOUT WINSTON CUP?
 "Not really too much. They have a lot of the same people working, but on the other hand, they've got another Winston Cup team in the same shop, and they have Steve Hmiel over there kind of watching over both things. They've got a bunch of people over there doing it, and they've been working on this a little bit longer, too. We just got our first car last week at the shop. It's gonna take more time and it will probably be difficult, but I think, if we can get the right people in place, it will be a lot easier."

HOW DO YOU FEEL ABOUT DEBUTING AT MICHIGAN? "I think Michigan is probably the best track we could go to first. When we sat down and thought about the five races we wanted to run, Michigan is a track that I really enjoy. We've run pretty well there both times with the Busch car, and we've run pretty well at California. From the driver's standpoint, I don't think the track is real difficult. It's a real big and wide, and the Roush cars usually run real well there, so I think that's a real good place to debut the DeWalt Taurus and try to get in the race."

Trackside Trivia

- When Ned Jarrett's father did not want him to be a race driver, what assumed name did Jarrett use in early races?
- Who scored the fewest points in winning the Winston Cup championship?

ANSWERS

1. John Lentz; 2. Alan Kulwicki, 4,078 in 1992.

Who's Hot... Who's Not

■ HOT: Tony Stewart finished fourth, moving him up to fifth in the standings.

■ NOT: A wreck knocked Kenny Irwin out of the race and into a 43rd-place finish.

Ladies' tea was served at Ravanelli's Restaurant last week.

Peggy Nickles presents: Ladies' Afternoon Tea

Sally Bergeson plays the harp during tea; she has played the harp for 15 years.

Tables were draped in vintage linen on which decorative teapots, saucers and serving pieces lay.

Tiered plate sets, colorful floral arrangements and beautiful candles also created a regal atmosphere last week at Ravanelli's Restaurant in Granite City.

About 60 ladies from both sides of the Mississippi gathered there for Peggy Nickles' Ladies Afternoon Tea.

Donning brightly colored bonnets and wearing their Sunday finest, they munched pastries, sipped tea and chatted as if they were a group of jaunty teen-agers as the dining area buzzed with conversation throughout the day.

"This type of event brings out the little girl in everybody here," Melodi Rayl of Granite City said. "It's a remembrance of an older, gentler time when women gathered to gossip and exchange picas-antries."

In each part of the dining area, the past seemed to come alive. Near the entrance, an antique wedding dress was mounted on a stand, its train draped across the carpet. Across from the decorative tables, a small Christmas tree was displayed, adorned with aged buttons, baby bonnets and tie clips.

"I love the way she (Nickles) incorporates old things found around the home to create such beautiful and exquisite things," said Dian Lucas of Collinsville as she gazed at the ornaments donning a white bonnet.

Clancy Ruess of Belleville was just as impressed. "I've never seen anything like this," she said. "She has a wonderful talent and a great imagination."

The area where the tree rested consisted of a haven of Nickles' crafts. Ruffled dolls made from layers of fine linen lined a table. Aged pillows, exquisitely detailed, were displayed, as well as framed photographs comprised of keepsakes.

"There are a lot of memories here," Nickles said. "But the afternoon tea is more than a collection of crafts. It's informative. I talk about tea history and the protocol of tea, discuss the care of linens and the beauty of roses."

Nickles will be at the Nan Elliott Memorial in Alton Aug. 31 to display the art of drying, cooking, painting, growing and decorating roses.

Some of the many little trinkets displayed.

Mona Faye Lewis and Lisa Thompson, both from Festus, enjoy tea and conversation.

'Haunting,' 'Gadget' overcome reviews to lead box

By David Germain
AP Business Writer

Poor reviews didn't scare off moviegoers from "The Haunting," making the high-tech ghost story No. 1 at the boxoffice over the weekend.

Based on Shirley Jackson's "The Haunting of Hill House," the movie starring Liam Neeson and Catherine Zeta-Jones had $33 million in ticket sales in its opening weekend, according to industry estimates Sunday.

Another movie rich in special effects and bad reviews, "Inspector Gadget," opened in second place with $22 million, while the beauty pageant dark comedy "Drop Dead Gorgeous" opened weakly in 11th place with $4 million.

"Star Wars: Episode I - The Phantom Menace" came in at No. 10 with $4.2 million. With a total of $402.9 million since its May 19 release, the "Star Wars" prequel edged "E.T. The Extra-Terrestrial" to take third place for all-time U.S. boxoffice in actual dollars, behind "Titanic" and the original "Star Wars."

The gross-out sex comedy "American Pie" slipped from second to third place, taking in $10.3 million.

Stanley Kubrick's racy "Eyes Wide Shut," starring Tom Cruise and Nicole Kidman, dropped from first place to fourth, grossing $9.9 million on its second weekend. That was down 54 percent.

"Eyes Wide Shut" was more of a first-weekend type of picture because the anticipation was so heavy," said Paul Dergarabedian, president of Exhibitor Relations Co. Inc., which tracks box office numbers. "People just dying to see it went out that opening week."

Collectible business is booming

Dealers say many items sell quickly

By Val McDowell
and Wade Alberty
Staff writers

The antique and collectible business in the Metro East has grown significantly in recent years.

Local dealers and shop and mall owners attribute this to a number of factors. Sometimes the media creates demand, popularizing items linked to an event like the Mark McGwire

"Antiquing is very relaxing. That's why I started it, though a doctor didn't prescribe it. I just did it to relax."

Robert O'Rear

home run blitz of last year.

Items from baseball cards to antique furniture often come and go so quickly that some dealers say they can't stock them.

Billie Garcia, owner of Billie's Odds and Ends, 105 E. Main in Collinsville, said she infrequently gets antique furniture, but that she can't specialize in it because it stays only briefly when it does arrive.

"Sometimes I do get really nice sets of antiques," Garcia said. "I've had a dining room set, bedroom set and buffet table. I recently sold a dining table for $50 and was told that a similar table was available at another store for $300."

Robert O'Rear, owner of the Belleville Antique Mall at 208 E. Main, said antiquing is good for your health.

"A lot of doctors prescribe it for their heart patients," he said as he recaned an antique chair. "Antiquing is very relaxing. That's why I started it, though a doctor didn't prescribe it. I just did it to relax."

O'Rear said antiquing is an engaging activity for several reasons. One is that each item is a unique piece of history.

Ann Tegtmeyer, manager of St. Clair Antique Mall at 315 Salem Plaza in Fairview

A few of the antiques in the Maryville Antique Mall.

Heights, said popular items this year include Fire King dishware, which she describes as "1950s era" plates; mixing bowls; and casserole dishes. She said the popularity of items seems to run in cycles.

"Right now I would say that anything of the '50s era is in demand, such as kitchenware, plastic ware, utensils and glassware," she said.

Mall owner Steve Laux said his business has no specialties.

"We have a wide range of collectibles and antiques; there's something for everyone with all different types of price ranges," he said.

He said that in the mall's 17,000 square feet, there are currently 200 dealers. There are very seldom any vacancies.

"There are a lot of collectors who come, and summer time is particularly popular for dealers, who travel the country and stop at malls like this looking for deals for their own shops," he said.

Sherry Kuykendall, owner of Maryville Antique Mall at 2114 S. Center in Maryville, has seen many changes in the industry since she took over her shop three years ago.

"When I first came in the door, I had nine or 10 dealers set up to work. Right now, I have approximately 30. That seldom changes," she said.

From 9:30 a.m. to noon Aug. 9, the store will have appraiser Ed Wentz of Edwardsville on hand to give enthusiasts free appraisals on what their antiques and collectibles are worth.

Kuykendall said he regularly does estate sales.

"I think people really want to know what they have; that's one of the exciting things about collecting and antiquing. The discovery of finding out what your property is worth," she said.

O'Rear said no matter how many treasures a shop or an individual acquires, few collectors or dealers claim "final" ownership.

"I don't consider myself as an owner," he said. "I see myself as a custodian. I was blessed to have them in my possession for some time, then I pass it on."

Disney's Gadget: a few flaws in a good kid's movie

John Brown (Matthew Broderick) wants to be a hero - a hero cop, to be exact. Trouble is, he's a polyester-clad security guard at a place called the Bradford Research Facility, a near-schlub whose only heroic triumphs happen when he's asleep and dreaming.

Then he gets a chance. Crooks - of the old-fashioned, revel-in-evil, take-over-the-world variety - blow up his car with him in it as they try to steal cyborg technology from the Bradford building. Presto! Brenda Bradford (Joely Fisher), the research scientist whose father, Artemus (Rene Auberjonois), was murdered by the thugs, has found the perfect cyborg guinea pig.

He's operated on with wrenches and mousetraps, and when he wakes up, he's no longer human but sort of an 8-year-old's slapstick idea of the Six Million Dollar Man (hey, this DID start out as a Saturday-morning cartoon).

All he has to do is say "Go-Go Gadget" and he sprouts whatever he wants out of his body - skis or giant springs for feet, a grappling hook out of his head, a cigarette lighter and a toothbrush from his fingers.

Understandably, John is none too pleased about this development. "I'm not me anymore," he laments. "I'm a hardware store."

But it's some consolation when his dream is realized and he's named the new supercop of the Riverton, Ohio, police force. They dub him "Inspector Gadget" and give him a trench coat, a fedora and a souped-up talking car (voiced by D.L. Hughley). Chief Quimby (Dabney Coleman) and his men, however, are none too pleased.

"Columbo, Nintendo, all rolled into one," Quimby grumbles. What ensues is a latter-day Keystone Kops escapade involving the supervillain, the handsome and claw-handed Sanford Scolex (Rupert Everett) and his henchpeople Kramer (the manic Andy Dick of "NewsRadio") and Sikes (the wonderfully droll chubby sidekick Michael G. Hagerty). They try to co-opt Brenda, steal her research and build an evil Inspector Gadget (also Broderick, apparently digitally enhanced) to dispatch the good version and foment chaos.

Being a Disney picture (a fact that is referred to WITHIN the movie, by the way), this is a sweet, good-natured story. It would be easy to dismiss it as irrelevant fluff, but that would be way too stodgy. Unlike most live-action versions of cartoons, which are intended largely as nostalgia cruises, this is not a look back. It's a film for kids that adults may or may not enjoy.

And, for a children's movie, it's quite intelligent. It's got a sidekick who says things to the boss like, "I wish you'd be more specific." It's got absurd lines like, "Et tu, Sikes?" And it's got a wonderful mini-spoof of the old Toho Godzilla flicks and their creature-fleeing crowds running through a burning Riverton (actually Pittsburgh, standing in for the fictional town). It's even got an "English Patient" joke.

It also offers, on a kid's canvas, a portrait of what technology means to the human body in the late 1990s. John Brown isn't at all pleased about becoming a machine; his adjustment to it is slow and bumpy, but he adjusts. It's interesting to see how this is presented for kids. It's sensitive while still managing to be

"Arthouse films", you don't know what you're missing

By Kevin Carbery
Staff writer

The term "arthouse film" turns off most of the people I know.

They do not realize what they are missing.

Oh, there are plenty of stereotypically dour artsy movies making the rounds, but, many others are humorous, thrilling, sexy or sentimental. In almost all instances, independent or foreign flicks shown at arthouse theaters are written at a higher level than what Hollywood studios produce.

One of the funniest films I have seen lately has been "The Castle," an Australian movie about an ordinary man fighting to save his home from a government takeover attempt. It is not showing at 800 screens around the area, but it is worth finding.

Another current arthouse flick you might enjoy is "Run Lola Run," a motion picture from Germany about a woman trying to save her boyfriend's

Trivia

life in a time frame of 20 minutes after he loses a drug lord's money. It is action-packed and as exciting as any film that will be released this year.

"Run Lola Run" is subtitled, which seems to frighten off some viewers. I don't know why. If you are able to read, you have the ability to understand a subtitled foreign movie.

A reason to go to subtitled films is that Hollywood often remakes them in English and usually produces an inferior copy. "La Femme Nikita" is a terrific French-language film about a female street punk turned into a government assassin. Hollywood remade it as "Point of No Return," a lame picture.

Documentaries also repel some people, but, they shouldn't.

"When We Were Kings," "Crumb" and "Hoop Dreams" all are documentaries and more interesting than most standard motion pictures. They are certainly better than any films Pauly Shore or Jean-Claude Van Damme have released.

I want to stress that I am not endorsing all arthouse films. I have found Scandinavian movies often to be too depressing and, while numerous critics have mooned over "My Dinner With Andre," it nearly bored me to death.

This week's trivia quiz covers arthouse movies. Keep the films mentioned in mind the next time you go to a video store.

1. In what 1998 Irish comedy does a man have a heart attack and die over the excitement of winning a government lottery?

2. A woman pours her emotions into her cooking in what sensual 1992 Mexican flick?

3. What John Sayles film deals with members of the Chicago White Sox throwing the 1919 World Series?

4. What 1996 movie involves a young girls' horrible struggles in junior high school and at home?

5. "Waiting for Guffman" is a mockumentary concerning the fictional town of Blaine in what state?

6. What queen of independent films, stars in "Party Girl"?

7. What Spanish director has made such movies as "Women on the Verge of a Nervous Breakdown" and "High Heels"?

8. What Czechoslovakian picture won the 1996 Best Foreign Film Academy Award?

9. What 1988 Italian film tells the story of a young boy befriending an old film projectionist?

10. "Clerks" from 1993 was the debut of what director?

ANSWERS: 1. "Waking Ned Devine." 2. "Like Water for Chocolate." 3. "Eight Men Out." You can't go wrong with a John Sayles film. 4. "Welcome to the Dollhouse." 5. Missouri. The movie is hilarious. 6. Parker Posey, who is also in "Waiting for Guffman." 7. Pedro Almodovar. 8. "Kolya," a touching film. 9. "Cinema Paradiso." 10. Kevin Smith. Be forewarned, this flick contains much foul language, but, it is a scream.

I will host the following upcoming trivia events: St. Louis Community College at Meramec Alumni Association Trivia on Saturday, Oct. 2, call 984-7551.

Kevin Carbery can be heard as a regular on "The Entertainment and Trivia Show" at 10 p.m. Sundays on KMOX Radio (1120 AM).

"Haunting", "Gadget" lead box office

end." "Haunting" director Jan De Bont had his fourth straight No. 1 opening, after "Speed," "Twister" and "Speed 2: Cruise Control."

The critically panned "Haunting" faces a specter of its own with the wide release this week of "The Blair Witch Project," a horror phenomenon that has been selling out a handful of theaters. The film goes from 31 screens to about 1,000 on Friday and from 1,500 to 2,000 by Aug. 6, said Paul Pflug, spokesman for distributor, Artisan Entertainment.

The low-budget movie took in $2 million for an average of about $64,500 a screen, more than five times the average for "The Haunting."

"The Blair Witch Project" is rated R while "The Haunting" has a PG-13 rating. That should leave room in the market for both, said Jim Tharp, distribution chief for DreamWorks, which released "The Haunting."

I don't see "Blair Witch" as being our worst nightmare," Tharp said.

Estimated grosses for Friday through Sunday at North American theaters, according to Exhibitor Relations Co. Inc.:

1. "The Haunting," $33 million.
2. "Inspector Gadget," $22 million.
3. "American Pie," $10.3 million.
4. "Eyes Wide Shut," $9.9 million.
5. "Big Daddy," $6.1 million.
6. "Lake Placid," $5.5 million.
7. "Wild, Wild West," $5.4 million.
8. "The Wood," $4.9 million.
9. "Tarzan," $4.6 million.
10. "Star Wars: Episode I—The Phantom Menace," $4.2 million.

Horoscope

THURSDAY, JULY 29
TODAY'S BIRTHDAY:

You may end up participating in an involvement in the year ahead where you play only a minor role. Yet your part will be significant and what you gain could be more valuable than a title.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Take ample time today to weigh and balance both sides of any important issue that's been dumped in your lap today. Through the use of your analytical abilities, constructive conclusions can be reached.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) When taking on a job that might be a little too complicated for you to do single-handed, have some back up available just in case you need it. You might not, but, then again, you may need it.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Let the majority rule today in all group activities in which you become involved, unless you feel it does not serve your best interests. In this case, simply excuse yourself from the event.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Tie up loose ends on anything which has been left undone and has been frustrating you. By doing so, you'll not only relieve the impediments, it'll make for a very constructive day as well.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Your mental restlessness can be gratified if you share your time with stimulating companions who make you think. Leave the physical exercises for another day.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Begin today by planning to build for your tomorrows. By providing a sturdy foundation at this time, it could increase your chances for success on something in which you're presently interested.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) If you hope to inspire and influence others in some manner today, put on a positive face. Outward appearances tend to be a trifle more significant now than usual.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Because your hunches could reveal things your logic ignores today, your intuitive perceptions should not be ignored. They can provide you with valuable information not gleaned otherwise.

lighthearted; when Inspector Gadget makes the cover of The Sharper Image catalog, you know he's made it both as human and machine.

One odd thing: Some really obtrusive product placements. Look for the Yahoo! search engine and Skittles candy to play actual plot roles. This is very distressing, but probably the next inevitable step in the commercialization of movie scripts.

For adults, the best moment comes at the end when Sikes mends his ways and attends a "minion recovery group." In the audience: Jaws (Richard Kiel) and Oddjob of James Bond fame, along with Tatoo, Tonto, Igor, Peter Lorre, Charlie Chan's No. 1 son and Inspector Clouseau's Kato. A wonderful bit.

For kids, "Inspector Gadget" is an upbeat movie with a cute plot and some fun things to watch. If Hollywood must make a live-action cartoon, this is the way to do it. Rated PG.
